More information about training providers

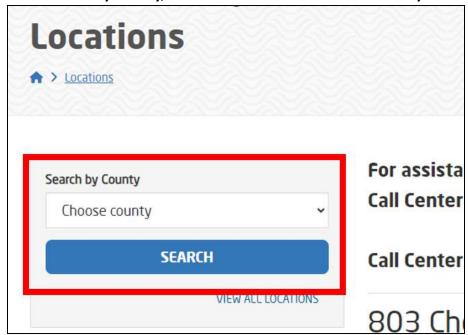

Listed are programs or courses that have received initial certification or have been recertified as required by federal law. Initial certification and inclusion on these lists are based on data submitted to local workforce investment boards by the training providers applying for certification. Review the list prior to enrolling in a program or course to ensure that the training provider is certified to enroll people with a WIOA individual training account.

Training providers who offer programs or courses under the same program type are listed in alphabetical order. The order of listing does not reflect a preference by any government agency. Anyone with an individual training account is advised review the data on each program or course in consultation with his or her local case manager.

If a training provider has voluntarily given the additional contact information, then linkages to their external websites may be available to provide customer information when selecting a training provider/program.

General inquiries regarding information reported on the Eligible Training Provider List should be directed to the staff of your local workforce del glopment area (LWDA). Information provided by LWDAs and training providers is included, but the Kentucky Career Center cannot guarantee the accuracy of the information. Let your LWDA know if you discover any inaccuracies in the information in the list. For specific information or inquiry regarding WIOA-eligible training providers, contact your local Kentucky Career Center.
